Breaches of the Code

If you believe a REPs registered exercise professional is in breach of the code, you may make a formal complaint to REPs. Cases may be brought before a REPs disciplinary panel, and the panel is empowered to make binding decisions. Should a breach be found, sanctions may include suspension or termination of REPs registration, a reprimand or formal warning, or other determination the panel considers appropriate.

For further details of this procedure, visit the REPs website - www.reps.org.nz